Shengyang "Travis" Cao

Email: travis.cao@wisc.edu 1180 Observatory Dr, Office 6473 Website: https://scaotravis.github.io Madison, WI 53706-1393

Last updated: May 7, 2021

Education

Ph.D. in Economics, University of Wisconsin-Madison. 2019-24 (expected).

B.A. in Economics and Mathematics, University of Wisconsin-Madison. 2015-19.

Economics major under mathematical emphasis and honors track

Graduated with Distinction

Graduated with Comprehensive Honors (Honors in Major and Honors in Liberal Arts)

Grants, Scholarships, and Honors

Graduate (UW-Madison)

2020-21 Juli Plant Grainger Teaching Excellence Scholarship.

UW-Madison, Department of Economics.

Won in 2020 Spring for teaching Econ 101 (Principles of Microeconomics).

Won in 2020 Fall for teaching Econ 522 (Law and Economics).

Won in 2021 Spring for teaching Econ 400 (Introduction to Applied Econometrics).

Undergraduate (UW-Madison)

2019 Juli Plant Grainger Scholarship in Economics.

UW-Madison, Department of Economics.

2018 Honors Senior Thesis Summer Research Grants.

UW-Madison, College of Letters and Science Honors Program.

Project: Perform market demand estimation on California non-commercial automotive sector to investigate the role of fuel efficiency in consumer preferences.

Advisor: Prof. Matthew Wiswall, UW-Madison, Department of Economics.

Amount: $3,000.

2018 Degenhart Family Scholarship in Economics.

UW-Madison, Department of Economics.

2015-17 Dean's List (all semesters).

UW-Madison, College of Letters and Science.

Academic Experiences

Graduate (UW-Madison)

2019- Teaching Assistant.

UW-Madison, Department of Economics.

2021 Spring: Introduction to Applied Econometrics (Econ 400)

Instructor: Dr. Matthew Friedman

2020 Fall: Law and Economics (Econ 522)

Instructor: Prof. Daniel Quint

Average Rating: 4.79 / 5 (Distinguished)

2020 Spring: Principles of Microeconomics (Econ 101)

Instructor: Dr. David Johnson

Average Rating: 4.72 / 5 (Distinguished)

2019 Fall: Principles of Microeconomics (Econ 101)

Instructor: Dr. David Johnson Average Rating: 4.35 / 5 (Excellent)

Undergraduate (UW-Madison)

2018-19 Research Intern and Data Analyst.

Epistemic Analytics. UW-Madison, Wisconsin Center for Education Research (WCER). Projects: How multimodal data analysis facilitates understanding of student learning. Personally developed R package hoo for learning progress analysis.

Mentor: Hanall Sung, UW-Madison, WCER.

Work Experiences

2016-18 Helpdesk Support Specialist, Quality Control, and Floor Supervisor.

UW-Madison, Department of Information Technology (DoIT).

2016 Marketing Assistant.

Waukesha, WI District. College Works Painting.

Miscellaneous

Languages

Chinese, native speaker English, bilingual proficiency

Technical Skills

Highly proficient:

Julia, Python, R, MATLAB, Stata, Java, TEX, Markdown

Familiar:

JavaScript, CSS, Jekyll, Git

Citizenship

China, People's Republic of